Hi Leanne,

Just a quick e-mail to thank you once again for organising [REDACTED] and myself last week. The meeting with those involved in [REDACTED] transition went quite well and I am pleased to say that all those involved do appear to be genuinely concerned with having suitable accommodation available for [REDACTED] as soon as possible.

The representative from Transitional Housing advised that a unit at [REDACTED] has become available and it is now only the necessary paperwork etc that is preventing it being ready for [REDACTED]. It was anticipated that all should be ready within a two week time frame. I also met [REDACTED] and Nathan who is the team leader at the clinic. Also met [REDACTED] who is going to be part of [REDACTED] support network. And it was great to meet [REDACTED] who I have found to be very good to talk to and who has been very helpful with some of my questions.

I certainly hope that the transition does happen shortly as the uncertainty of exactly when the unit will be available is causing [REDACTED]

I must say that [REDACTED] enjoyed our couple of days together in Brisbane but it is always hard on both of us when it's time to part again. [REDACTED] looks so well and is looking forward to returning to college on Wednesday and getting back into [REDACTED]. So hopefully the availability of the unit shortly will then allow [REDACTED] to settle and concentrate on [REDACTED] future, knowing [REDACTED] is returning to [REDACTED] own place and not a hospital ward or mental health unit.

Regards,
